

SECTIONAL TOURNAMENT SECRETARY'S GUIDELINES FOR REPORTING TOURNAMENT RESULTS TO ARCHERY MAGAZINE

If possible, avoid tabulating the scores using ordinary tab stops. Instead, use a columnar format, such as in MS Word table or MS Excel spreadsheet. Tab stops tend to get misaligned when the document is reformatted (for printing in the magazine), whereas columns are likely to remain properly aligned. Excel makes a good data input format, too. It can do all the calculations and ranking automatically.

For all but the "SHOOTER" column, size column width to be no more than 6 characters. [Examples: ST (for "State"), RND 1, FLD (or 28 FLD), 14 ANL, HTR, DAY 2, X's, TOTAL, etc. See samples below.]

Use standard nomenclature for NFAA styles and divisions. You may write out the entire division/style name, but the standard style/division acronyms are acceptable. [Examples: AFBHFS, AMFS, CMBB, YAMFSLR/L, etc. See Appendix 5, page 98, in the 2005-06 NFAA Constitution and By-Laws.]

Remember to show the shooter's home state, using standard "Post Office," two-letter abbreviations. [Examples: VA, FL, TX, WA, etc.]

First names first, or last names first makes no difference ... just be consistent. Also, don't mix all caps with initial caps ... either one or the other.

Here's an abbreviated sample of an Indoor Sectional tally:
